Irish traditional music concert and dance

Matt and Shannon Heaton

"Irish music with a wonderfully rich and earthy sound...and an infectious spirit and vitality that translates into bright, uplifting music that will make you smile." - Dirty Linen folk music magazine

This event will be a one-hour concert followed by a Irish folk dancing for everyone. All dances will be taught and called. No experience and no partner necessary. All ages are welcome. Irish social dancing is similar to American contra and square dancing. Low impact and lots of fun. Free refreshments.

Where: First Christian Church Activity Room, 116 Walnut St. (corner of Walnut & Tenth in Columbia). Enter through the back door facing the parking lot, under the portico.

Admission at the door:
